THE PARENTS' NEWS LETTER OF THE GREY COAT HOSPITAL

NOVEMBER 2007

Dear parents,

Firstly I would like to encourage you all to come to a second BSF (Building Schools for the Future) Consultation event which is taking place at the school, in the chapel at St Andrews, on Wednesday 5th December between 3.30-7pm. If you are able to drop in at any time during that period and give your comments on the options available, then it would be very helpful. We need parental contributions to support our planning application.

I would also like to mention that students from Grey Coat are exhibiting work in the SW1 gallery in Victoria from 27th November until 5th December, 2007. This exhibition has been organised by the United Westminster Schools Grey Coat Hospital Foundation and you are most welcome to come along.

I have just returned from a visit to our partner school in Shanghai, Number 3 Girls High School. The school was celebrating its 115th anniversary, and invited colleagues from all its partner schools for an all expenses paid trip to take part in an international conference on education. One of the themes for discussion was teaching thinking, and as this is something we are already working on, and which we are keen to extend, I decided to accept the invitation.

Martina Lecky accompanied me, as our longest established work on teaching thinking is the CASE course which students take in Y7 and 8, during their Science lessons. The official name of the course is Cognitive Acceleration through Science Education, but the students know it as

Photos: Ms Lecky teaches a discussion-based Science Lesson

'Brain Training'. Ms Lecky is a CASE trainer, and trains not only our own teachers in this very specific method of teaching, but also teachers from other schools. In Shanghai, she gave a demonstration lesson to a Year 8 class from Number 3 High School.

Number 3 High School is a selective school, and its very high reputation means that it attracts the brightest girls in Shanghai. It was nonetheless impressive to see these girls taking part in a very demanding discussion-based Science lesson conducted in English, which none of them had learned anywhere but at school. Apart from a brief introduction for the teachers who had come to observe, which was translated, Ms Lecky did not use an interpreter, and the students expressed their thoughts in English.

It was very interesting to meet colleagues from Brisbane, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Singapore, San Francisco, and Japan. We made useful contacts, and learned about what other schools are doing regarding teaching thinking. A number of colleagues also expressed a serious interest in the CASE project, including another visiting headteacher from Shanghai, who gave a response to what he had observed in the seminar after the lesson. We were also keen to find out about how other colleagues teach Mandarin, because, of course the schools all had this as one of the reasons for their link with No 3 High School.

Students waiting to perform musical items in front of local dignitaries. Notice the shape of the windows behind the backdrop. The headteacher is at the lectern.

We also took part in some enjoyable activities in celebration of the anniversary, including a dinner, where we had the pleasure of meeting the American great grand-daughter of the very first headmistress of the school, when it was founded in 1892, as St Mary's School. (The building still shows traces of that church school origin, which is quite fascinating in the present context.) The school campus is like an oasis in the middle of a huge building site – not only is Shanghai expanding rapidly, with sky scrapers going up all over the city, but they are building an underground train system, which includes a line going right past the school. On the Saturday, students from the school performed musical items and dances for a large audience of local dignitaries, past students and the school, gathered on the large, impeccably kept lawn in front of the main building. The weather was pleasantly warm, the sun shone, and the trees were full of birds. It was quite an amazing experience.

Altogether, we were tremendously well looked after, with Ms Ding, one of the teachers who has visited Grey Coat in the past, acting as our personal guide. Our next exchange visit to Shanghai is due to take place in June, and students from Number 3 High School will be visiting London in October 2008. We greatly look forward to the continuation of our developing relationship with this remarkable school.

Attendance & Punctuality

Years 7, 8 and 9

Attendance continues to be good across all years with students making every effort to come in every day. Please try and arrange appointments either outside school hours or at a time which allows your daughter to come in for as much of the school day as possible. I am happy to speak to Doctors and Dental Practitioners regarding this.

Punctuality has improved a great deal and I hope this will continue and improve even further. Should you move from your current address, please let me know so that I can help you plan a new route to school and please let the school office know any new phone numbers in case of an emergency.

Students Receive 'Preparation for Work' Qualification

Students who recently achieved the OCR qualification 'Preparation for Work Experience' Level 2 (equivalent to half a GCSE) were presented with their certificates during an assembly at St Michael's.

Their portfolios were assessed by an external assessor and were judged to be 'outstanding'.

Year 8 Students Embrace

In October, thirty Year 8 students were offered the wonderful opportunity to visit the Lake District for an adventure packed weekend, partly funded by the London Challenge. Here are some of the students' accounts of their experiences:

On 12th October 2007 a group of enthusiastic Grey Coat girls and three teachers set off for the Lake District for a fun, packed weekend. We got on the coach and watched a few films provided by Miss Kirkaldy and then we had a quiz made by Mr Stevenson! The 6-hour drive there lasted for ages. When we got there we were allocated rooms with bunk beds and then we had dinner and went to bed. The next two days were jam-packed with lots of exciting things to do: abseiling, ghyll scrambling (very wet but really fun), rock climbing and hill walking. On the last night we had awards and certificates given out and an extremely funny talent show with Miss Kirkaldy's mum as special guest! When it was time to leave, we were all very sad to go, but unfortunately we had to. Thank you to Miss Kirkaldy, Miss Morrish and Mr Stevenson for a fantastic weekend!

Alexandra Law 8Y

"I think that the Lake District was fantastic. Everything was great and I even challenged myself to go ahead and do abseiling as I am terrified of heights".
Shazelle (8H)

"On the last night, each dorm was given the task of creating and performing either a poem, speech, dance or play about our time in the Lake District. It was hilarious - we all came up with very strange yet brilliant ideas. We all thoroughly enjoyed ourselves and made the most of our time in the Lake District. It was sad to leave, but it was nice to get home and have a hot bath and a cup of tea!" (Alice Williams, 8G)

Adventure in the Lake District

“Rock climbing taught me that if you try your best, you will succeed” (Carmelita).

“I’d like to go to a rock climbing centre when I’m back home” (Valentina)

“I’VE DONE THINGS THAT I NEVER THOUGHT I COULD DO!” (IVY)

“I learnt not to worry and to encourage other people” (Abbie)

“I feel like doing it again!” (Titilayo)

Review of Charity Week

8y's charity week evaluation - Wild 'n' out Evaluation: The wild 'n' out didn't go to plan but was still fun to watch and to organise. Thank you to Miss Kirkaldy, Miss Bryant, Miss Campey and Mr Coe for taking part in our event.

In the future for the new charity reps we think that we should be more organised – using posters and asking teachers to take part earlier than we did this time, also to remind them about the event nearer the time and on the day.

I think that we should have put the stall in with the event unless it is in the gym where you are not allowed to eat. Overall we feel we did a good job on the wild 'n' out!

Stall Evaluation

The Stall didn't start off that great as we all felt that we didn't have enough time to set up. As nobody was listening to the Charity reps, it ended up with everyone in a lot of confusion, but we regained our balance when we managed to get hold of some tables and start to sell food.

We would like to say a big thank you to Mrs Connolly and of course the members of 8Y who contributed a large amount of time and effort to make it a success. Next time we feel we could improve by being more prepared for the accidents that occurred on our Charity Day. Overall, we feel it was a huge success.

Both of us feel that the class were very supportive and overall we feel very happy with our Charity Event. We are pleased to have raised over £65.47 for our charity and we are exceptionally proud to be in 8Y! (THANKS 8Y) Elle and Lucy

On the 8th of October 8C did a charity event that involved teachers, makeup, dresses and lots of food! The event held a raffle which meant you could get a teacher to do whatever you wanted for a day! Lots of people turned up and this food was all gone within seconds. People were excited by the teachers in dresses and seemed to be having a fantastic time by the looks of things.

It was all done exactly how we imagined and it was a fantastic way to raise some money.

Daisy Ibsen and Valentina Alija

On Friday 9th October 2007 8H organised a couple of stalls, with the theme of "Foods from around the World." There were a plethora of delicacies from all continents and a wide range of healthy food. Our charity event was incredibly successful and we raised a respectful amount of money towards the Breast Cancer Research Foundation. We are really proud of our selves!!!

Samaritans Shoe Box Appeal

Lower School students were invited, by Miss Kirkaldy, to take part in this year's Samaritans Operation Christmas Child appeal. This annual project enables caring individuals, families, schools, churches, businesses, and other organisations to fill ordinary shoe boxes with small toys, school supplies, sweets, and other gifts for needy children around the world.

Operation Christmas Child sends a message of hope to children in need around the world through gift-filled shoe boxes.

Operation Christmas Child is the world's largest children's Christmas project. It began in 1990 and last year 1.24 million shoe boxes from the UK were sent to children in hospitals, orphanages, Internally Displaced Persons camps, homeless shelters and impoverished neighbourhoods.

The Grey Coat Hospital's contribution to this amount was an amazing 170 shoeboxes! The girls shown in the photograph include the Year 8 charity monitors who helped Miss Kirkaldy coordinate the shoebox appeal in school, and individuals who contributed 2 shoeboxes or more.

8Gs charity week was a blast. Our theme was based on carnival!! The foods we sold were delicious and were on sale at fantastic prices. We had chicken, rice, dumplings and plantain, which the GCH pupils went crazy for!!!!!! We also had reggae music blasting out of the speakers, which made the atmosphere more intense. The feel of the hall was amazing!!!!!! There were people dancing and singing, and the wonderful aroma of hot food filled the hall. Everything was alive!!!!!!

Finally it was time to clear up, and everyone went to their lessons with a good taste in their mouths, and their heads buzzing with excitement!!!!!!

Black Heritage Day

Year 9 students took part in Black Heritage day on Thursday 18th October. They put in a tremendous effort to produce stalls reflecting Black Heritage and raised over £350.00 for Retrak, a charity helping children affected by HIV and AIDS in Uganda, Ethiopia and Kenya. The day concluded with a drama performance and African drumming from Mr Jones, the Year 10 GCSE music group and four members of 9C. Joanne Oguntimehin of 9T wrote this account of the day:

On the 18th October 2007 it was Black Heritage Day. The whole day was a complete success and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves. There is one part of the day that really stood out for me, the drama performance from a group called ICAN.

The drama performance lasted for about an hour and all started with a parking ticket. It was about a young man who was really fed up with England and wanted to explore and know more about his roots and his African ethnicity. He realised and acknowledged all the great people such as Martin Luther King, Harriet Tubman, Nelson Mandela, Rosa Parks and many more who have all done extraordinary things to help the world. All of these people came from an African background which really inspired him. He has a wife and a newly born child and he suddenly gets this ludicrous idea to move his family to Africa and start an internet business. He has a brother from the East London who doesn't care about his ethnicity and background – he was really funny and one of my favourite characters throughout the performance even though he was against his brother's decision. It was by far one of the most hilarious and entertaining drama performances the Grey Coat hospital has ever seen. I definitely took it all in and learnt about famous Africans who fought to make this world a better place for everyone.

International Events at Grey Coat

A team has been entered into the Mondialogo International School Competition run by UNESCO. The team will be linked with a school in another country and together will produce a project of their choosing. The competition encourages students to make friends with students in other countries and is a unique opportunity to learn about other cultures.

Grey Coat will be taking a team on a trip with World Challenge in the summer of 2009. The team will spend 4 weeks travelling the Maya Route through Mexico, Guatemala and Belize. They will be trekking and undertaking community work. The students will be fundraising for this trip over the next two years so watch this space for more events!

The first International Student Committee met this term to discuss how to promote the international ethos at the school. The committee is made up of the elected International Representatives (global reps) from each form but any one interested is more than welcome. Miss Worsfold

Thank you to all those Year Sevens who rose to the challenge and did some extra reading during Readathon and to all who supported and encouraged them. The money is now nearly all in – look out for the grand total in the next Newsletter!

PS Just because Readathon is over doesn't mean you stop reading!

Y12 Product Design Students at the British Museum

On the 5th October Y12 D&T Product Design students visited the British Museum to research body adornment in other cultures. We concentrated on the ethnographic collection which has a wide collection of materials, products and costumes from African, South American, Indian and Chinese cultures, both present and past.

After an hour of drawing and photographing the collection we gathered to discuss what had been most impressive and what we had learnt. All this insight will now go towards the main coursework project in which the Y12 students have to design and make their own piece of modern body adornment to be worn by a model in a fashion show.

Autumn Concert is Big Success

This year's Autumn Concert was simply bursting with talent. The evening was kick-started by our African Drumming Group which proved a great success. There was a huge variety of musical styles on offer which, judging by the applause, the large audience seemed to appreciate. There were performances from the Senior Orchestra, Concert Band, GCH Jazz, Guitar Club, String Trio, Year 7 Choir, Junior Gospel Choir, Concert Choir, Chamber Choir and solo pieces from Bethel Eskender and Jessica McCarthy, Hannah Robbins, Emma Penrose and Yasmin Baker. The concert was also a success thanks to our new Director of Music, Mr Jones who impressed us all with his first concert. On top of all this, we even managed to raise over £300 to buy a set of Samba drums for the school.

Yr7 Team 1 vs City of London
6th Nov 2007

As part of the final netball trials for the Yr7 squad, 2 teams played against the almighty City of London. Team 1 got off to a good start and made several strong passes, however City of London fought hard for the ball and had some excellent shooters. Dionne Ward Anderson and Ann Marie Williams (Goal Keeper and Goal Defence) defended extremely well and prevented many goals being scored. At half time the score was 8-0 to City of London. During the second half Grey Coat played well, Bethany Lees worked hard as Centre and was supported by Nadine Wilson-Jones (Wing Defence). Iashia Carth was able to score 2 goals and not once did Grey Coat let their heads drop despite City of London scoring 4 more goals.

Yr7 Team 2 vs City of London
6th Nov 2007

Team 2 played extremely well from the start and made several key interceptions. City of London had a strong defence and kept the ball out of Grey Coat's circle preventing them from shooting. Mahaney Macfoy and Lois Cobblah worked hard and had some shots at goal but City of London's defence were very sharp. The score at half time was 2-0 to City of London. During the second half Vanessa Pango made an energetic Centre and worked well with Emma Greer (Wing Attack). Grey Coat defended well, with Rosanna Stewart (Wing Defence) and Kathryn Macarthy (Goal Defence) putting their opponents under a lot of pressure. Again Grey Coat never let their heads drop and fought for every ball.
